To whom it may concern

I, David Blanc, President and General Manager for World Radio Paris, France's English language radio station, testify that Katrine Lyngsø Knudsen worked at WRP as a summer intern for 4 months, from May to August 2018 and during 6 months in summer 2019 on a 'service civique' contract as a producer.

Ms Knudsen performed various journalism-related tasks: Anchoring, editing, researching news items, interviewing guests and conducting field reports. She proved to be an experimented young journalist, she was an independent, energetic, resourceful and overall wonderful person to work with.

Above all, her work was excellent, her techniques improved to the point that she became completely autonomous in the studio, she was able to find the relevant news that mattered to our target audience even though she didn't speak French fluently at the time. Her understanding of the French culture and knowledge of the city of Paris almost always brought her to find the stories that were important to cover. She was able to create and edit reports in a quick and professional manner, so they were aired at the right time. She always met her deadlines.

We strongly recommend Katrine for radio or TV journalistic positions. She will be an amazing asset to any organization and academic institution.
